Topic/Theme	Recent Trends in Taxation
Date	15 th Feb 2024
Place	Seminar Hall
Brief Report	Mrs. Jyoti Hargude explained her view on Recent Trends in Taxation. She explained Looking ahead to 2024, the tax landscape appears poised for further reforms and adaptability. The Finance Minister's commitment to reducing compliance complexities and fostering a conducive business environment sets the tone for future developments. Income tax is the most common example of direct tax. As the term "income tax" suggests, it is a tax levied by the Central government on income generated by individuals and businesses in a particular financial year. Recent Developments in Indirect Taxes one such development is the introduction of e-invoicing under GST. It aims to streamline the invoicing process by digitizing it, making it more efficient and reducing errors. E-invoicing has become mandatory for businesses with an annual turnover exceeding a specified threshold.
